

Facing Flames Regional Workshop Series

VIRTUAL EDITION

The National Disability Rights Network invites Protection and Advocacy agencies and fire service representatives to collaborate on effective strategies that protect the lives and rights of people with disabilities. Concurrent crises throughout 2020 have exposed inequities faced by people with disabilities. This virtual edition of Facing Flames will surely be enhanced by recent insights gained from P&As and first responders. Together, we can collectively face fires, pandemics, disasters and other emergencies.

Developed in conjunction with the National Association of State Fire Marshals, this initiative has offered 8 out of 10 regional workshops in person throughout the US with the last 2 sessions now slated to take place virtually. Check out this video to learn about the experience previous attendees had with the workshop.

Each interactive session has successfully brought together first responders and P&A representatives to collectively pursue pathways for protecting the rights, safety and dignity of people with disabilities. Our theme is Facing Flames: Reimagining How We Prepare for, Respond to and Recover from Fires, Disasters and other Emergencies.
