The National Disability Rights Network in collaboration with Foundations for Divergent Minds and the John Hopkins' Disability Health Research Center are proud to present Decoding Discrimination, a FREE virtual event focused on how common and coded language is used to deprioritize people of color with intellectual & developmental disabilities. Using contributions from our November 2021 roundtable discussion/information gathering, we will host a panel discussion and resource reveal on February 15th at 2 pm EST. The resource consists a brief list of discriminatory phrases, plain language wording, and suggested intervention strategies for self-advocates to gain practical tools in support of present and future advocacy efforts.

The panelists for Decoding Discrimination Part 2 include:

- Emmanuel Jenkins of the Delaware Developmental Disabilities Council
  - Founder, We Stand 4 Something
  - Community Relations Officer; LEND faculty
- Kayla Rodriguez of Autistic Women & Nonbinary Network
  - Vice Chair, Executive Advisory Committee
  - US Disability Alliance of Women, Non-binary Persons, & other Gender Minorities
- Dr. Janiece Taylor of the Johns Hopkins School of Nursing
  - Co-associate Director, RESILIENCE Center
  - Principal faculty, Center for Innovative Care in Aging
